

Foggy City Walk

Fog hangs over the city saxophone wails in the distance homeless man holds out a Styrofoam cup man with Italian shoes scoffs girl with headphones bobs her head like she can hear the music of the street on her iPhone woman on a bus bench buries her face in a book kids hop over an orange construction cone

I keep walking until the fog burns off.