

Seduction in the Glass

I remember Joe Vercelli talking about wine holding a large glass of Cabernet Sauvignon swirling the glass leaning his nose over the bowl inhaling the rich aroma.
With a twinkle in his eyes, he said,
"Ripe cherries, a hint of tobacco, and sweet vanilla from the oak"
He swirled the glass again and added with a smile,
"Look at those long lovely legs on this wine."
The tasting group held their glasses aloft and swirled then leaned in to take in the aromas Joe smiled an impish grin again
"That my friends is a seduction in the glass."

-John Koetzner